ABOUT THE CONFERENCE

The focal theme of the Conference will be electron microscopic research in various fields - Physical, Chemical, Materials Science, Life Sciences, Earth & Planetary Sciences. A large number of eminent researchers across the globe will be attending the conference and will share their views with us. The conference will provide an excellent opportunity to get exposed to the state-of-the-art microscopic techniques in different branches of Science. In addition to the oral and poster presentations, there are quite a number of plenary and invited talks by experts in the field. A micrograph contest and a number of pre-conference Satellite Workshops, offering tutorial/practical sessions, will encourage the young researchers to add impetus to their research activities.
